AND BULGARIAN-CZECHOSLOVAK INTERACTION

This article presents the life journey of Lyuba Kasarova – Bulgarian writer, translator and social figure. She is the daughter of František Spletek – a Czech father, and of a Russian mother who settled in Bulgaria in 1878, which then became the mother land for their children. There are two distinctive paths in the life of L. Kasarova – that of a writer and that of an activist in the Bulgarian-Czechoslovak relations. It is that second path that is discussed here. The latter brought her biggest acclaim – the White Lion order of the Czech Republic.
