
Maya Radicheva

*ADVERBIAL MEANINGS OF THE INSTRUMENTAL CASE
(DENOTING MANNER, RELATION AND QUANTITY) IN OLD CZECH
AND THEIR DEVELOPMENT IN MODERN CZECH*

This article is about one subcategory of the Instrumental case, including a group of adverbs without prepositions and adverbial phrases denoting manner, relation and quantity in the Old Czech language and in the Modern Czech language. The Old Czech examples are culled from the Chronicle of the so-called Dalimil, a work of the Old Czech literature from the 14th century.

Keywords: Dalimil's Chronicle, Old Czech language, Instrumental case, Czech adverbs, Czech historical linguistics
