THE HOSPITALITY OF LITERATURE

What, How and Why do Bulgarian Actors and Directors Write?

The following article examines literary works by Bulgarian actors and directors, written or published after 1989, highlighting autobiographies, memoirs, short stories, novels, and poems. Purposefully, little is said about plays, children's literature and writings on dramatic and film theory. The large amount of texts discussed stifles a more thorough analysis of each individual work, however an attempt is made at distinguishing a little known phenomenon within contemporary Bulgarian literature and examining its various aspects and specific traits.
