THE VERB CATEGORIES IN THE TWO GREEK GRAMMARS OF EMMANUIL VASKIDOVICH

This paper presents a general survey of the verb categories time, aspect and diathesis in two Greek grammar books by the Bulgarian Enlightenment author Emmanuil Vaskidovich. The grammar book published in 1837 offers a description of the Ancient Greek in katharevousa as a language of instruction; the other grammar book, which remained in manuscript, is a short bilingual manual of Modern Greek, in which the rules and definitions are given in Bulgarian translation. Two generations of Greek scholars teaching at the Princely Academy of Bucharest in the 1820s have been identified as sources of grammar concepts and descriptive models for Vaskidovich's books. In this paper, the contribution of his works and the progress of his linguistic concepts and didactic methods are evaluated in comparison with other Greek grammar books by contemporary Bulgarian authors.
